

The Boston Psychoanalytic Society & Institute Announces: The Child Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy Track in the One-Year Fellowship Program

---

---

Are you...

- Interested in exciting new contemporary thinking about child and adolescent psychotherapy?
- Curious about how psychoanalytically-informed ways of working can deepen your clinical work?
- Hoping to get a more solid background in psychodynamic approaches and techniques?
- Eager to discuss case material with peers and experienced Child and Adolescent Analysts and Therapists?

JOIN US for the New Full CHILD TRACK in our Fellowship Program!

Apply Now!

Learn from a range of core and cutting edge analytic models of development and technique and discuss cases with leaders in the field, in classes taught by BPSI's nationally and internationally known faculty of Child and Adolescent Analysts and Therapists!

BPSI's Fellowship is a one-year, classroom-based introduction to the theory and practice of psychoanalytic psychotherapy for established mental health clinicians and trainees. As a large and theoretically diverse psychoanalytic Institute, BPSI offers a range of knowledge and theories from all major psychoanalytic schools. Through exposure to fundamental psychoanalytic concepts and evolving contemporary ideas, Fellows learn within an integrative dynamic framework.

The Fellowship is a wonderful opportunity to explore how psychoanalytic thinking can help deepen your clinical interactions. Students who wish to focus on work with children and adolescents take theory and clinical seminars with a diverse group of master teachers. Fellows have the opportunity to learn Technique, Theory, and Child and Adolescent Development, further enhanced by discussion of their child and adolescent cases in a small group format, bringing the theory alive.

OUR FACULTY

Fellowship faculty members are experienced clinicians who seek to bring the richness, excitement, and depth of contemporary psychoanalytic thinking into the classroom and to help students bring psychoanalytic understanding into their clinical work.

Our faculty includes: Steven Ablon, MD, Kim Boyd, MD, Anthony Bram, PhD, Larry Brown, PhD, Ann Epstein, MD, Dov Fogel, MD, Maida Greenberg, EdD, James Herzog, MD, David Levoy, MD, Fred Meisel, MD, Karen Melikian, PhD, Marty Miller, MD, Allen Palmer, MD, Mimi Pantuhova, PsyD, Ava Penman, PhD, Sam Roth, PhD, and Judy Yanof, MD.

CURRICULUM

The Fellowship curriculum consists of two seminars, which meet on Thursday evenings. A Theory and Technique Seminar meets from 5:30 pm – 7:00 pm and a Clinical Seminar meets from 8:00 pm – 9:30 pm. There is a one-hour break between classes when Fellows can have dinner together. The academic year is divided into trimesters of ten-weeks each for a total of 30 weeks of classes, from mid-September through May.

In the Theory and Technique seminars, Fellows will learn the ‘how to’ of contemporary analytic therapy, concentrating on the best of established and contemporary approaches. In addition to the basics such as establishing a therapeutic relationship, the use of play, therapy technique with adolescents, attachment issues, mentalization, transference and countertransference, and working with parents and schools, Fellows have the opportunity to think about integrative approaches, for example how neuropsychological testing can enhance analytic therapy or how CBT can be integrated with analytic therapy.

Clinical seminars consist of discussion of case material presented by class members and instructors, infused with ideas from the theory and technique seminars. The Fellows and seminar leaders will explore numerous techniques and interventions geared toward children’s specific developmental capabilities and issues, discuss clinical dilemmas, and look at strategies for facilitating working alliances with parents, through individual case discussions.

BPSI provides Continuing Education credits for Social Workers, Psychologists, and Psychiatrists for all Fellowship Seminars.

MENTORSHIP

Each Fellow is offered the opportunity to meet with an individual advisor throughout the year, at a frequency to be decided by the Fellow and advisor. These mentors are experienced Child and Adolescent clinicians who are eager to support you as you explore the world of child psychoanalytic psychotherapy, and with whom you can discuss your professional development on a one-to-one basis.

THE FELLOWSHIP ALSO INCLUDES

- A special dinner meeting series on compelling issues in working with children and adolescents and families
- Opportunities to deepen relationships with other Child-focused clinicians
- Full Library services and an individual subscription to the PEP Web, the on-line psychoanalytic library of relevant journals
- Tuition fully covered for all of BPSI’s EXPLORATIONS IN MIND courses. New courses will be announced in late summer.
- Scholarship opportunities for BPSI training programs.
- Invitations to Private Practice Development workshops geared for trainees and early career clinicians.

FURTHER TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES AT BPSI

BPSI is a thriving professional and intellectual community. For its members, it often becomes a lifelong professional home of good friends, colleagues, and endless opportunities for learning and sharing.

Becoming a Fellow allows you to fully join in many aspect of BPSI's life, including attending our lectures, seminars, committee programs and electives.

For Child Track Fellows who are interested in further training, BPSI offers a three year Advanced Training Program (ATP) in Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy. Because the ATP is an adult training program, Child Track Fellows who also do adult work can apply during the spring of their Fellowship year to continue their studies in the ATP. Fellows are also welcomed to apply for psychoanalytic training at BPSI. Special opportunities for child-focused ATP students and Fellowship alumnae will be offered as well.

For more information and application, click here.

QUESTIONS?

For questions about the Child Fellowship, the Adult Fellowship, the three-year Advanced Training Program in Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy, or Psychoanalytic Training, any of the following people would be happy to talk with you about our programs:

Co-Chairs of the Child Clinical Track: David Levoy, (617) 244-0111 and Dov Fogel, (617) 547-6776.

Co-Chairs of the Admissions Committee for the Fellowship and ATP: Alison Phillips, (781) 237-2335 or Jessica Barton, (617) 253-4912.

Director of Psychotherapy Training: Richard Gomberg, (617) 796-8804.

BPSI's Training Liaison, Janet Noonan, (617) 571-6765, is also available to discuss the match of your clinical interests with our different training programs.

Any of the above may be contacted by email through: Drew Brydon at dbrydon@bpsi.org.

For administrative questions regarding your application, please contact Karen Smolens at the BPSI office at ksmolens@bpsi.org or (617) 266-0953.